

Gayane Kulikyan, MA

Gayane's curiosity about human relations began at the age of nine, when she and her family were among thousands of people forcibly displaced from their homes due to war.

She now helps people to experience healing and to discover their way back to belonging, connection, and fulfilling lives by talking about refugee and immigrant experiences.

Immigration. Belonging. Spirituality.

Talks that Gayane offers are:

- ▶ Challenges and Opportunities of Immigration
- ▶ Resiliency and Healing Tools for Immigrants
- ▶ Healing Trauma and Living with Purpose

Testimonials

“As a world history teacher I am always looking for real life speakers to come share their experiences. My students were mesmerized by her story but also by the way she told the story. Ms. Kulikyan has a natural ability to relate to people and she conveys her message in such a manner that you can’t help but want to hear more.”

Andrea Petz,
Seoul American High School, South Korea

“Immigration can be a nebulous or misunderstood topic to many, but Gayane’s heartfelt talk found its mark with the “Shine” audience. She moved us with our story, created greater understanding for those she serves and left us wanting to learn more.”

Dan Safko, Shine Movement Host, Orange County

Past Speaking Engagements Include:

- First Presbyterian Church, Norfolk, VA
- Colegio La Floresta, San Salvador
- Seoul American High School, Seoul, South Korea
- Shine Movement, Orange County, CA

Through speaking, coaching and writing, Gayane helps immigrant women who feel lost, to navigate challenges of intimacy and belonging, so they can heal and experience fulfilling lives.
